Dear Oxy community,

Over the past several weeks the College has made a consistent effort to persuade our neighbors to follow public health orders on wearing masks, observing proper social distancing and not gathering in groups while visiting campus. Because of a continuing lack of compliance, we are reluctantly closing the campus to all visitors, effective today. Signage announcing the closure has been posted around campus.

While we would prefer to continue Oxy's historic policy of maintaining an open campus, the health and safety of our students, faculty and staff has to be our top priority. The College looks forward when it again can welcome visitors and their families to campus, when it is safe to do so.

Regards,

Rick C. Tanksley

Director of Campus Safety
